Junior Programmer

I am an ambitious young programmer who wants to keep learning and improving my knowledge. I have a great interest in new technologies and keeping up with new developments in the industry. I'm a great problem solver problems and have a knack for finding creative solutions to difficult problems. I am a team player and work well with others, but I am also comfortable working independently. I have a strong work ethic and I take pride in my work. I am always looking for new challenges and am enthusiastic about learning new things.
